

Cooke Plumbing

This building has a long history in Hackettstown. At one time, B. Dickerson ran the the largest carriage factory in Hackettstown from this facility. Over the years, several furniture stores were operated here. The owners included John Hildebrandt and Charles Cochran.

In 1955, when this picture was taken, the building was owned by Russell Cooke. He operated a plumbing store. Do you know who occupies this Main Street building now?