

Main Street

For over fifty years, the telephone exchange in Hackettstown was located above the Endicott Johnson shoe store on the second floor of this Main Street building. The other store was occupied by the Hoover Department Store. Do you know who occupies this space today?