

Photos / Individuals / Catherine Wildrick

Catherine Stewart Wildrick Smith

((1847–1935))

Catherine Stewart Wildrick was born circa 1844, the daughter of John M. Wildrick and Catherine Stewart. She was the second wife of Jehiel T. Smith. He was a railroad agent and then the Postmaster in Andover for many years.

Jehiel and his first wife, who was also named Catherine, had numerous children, including Aldridge, Edward, Jennie, Charles, Jessie, LuLu, and Perly. He and Catherine Wildrick were parents to Whitfield and Josie.

Image rights owned by the Hackettstown Historical Society. Do not use without permission.

 close window