

OBITUARY

Charles A. Black Insurance company owner who relaxed by the pool at Panther Valley Country Club, 'caring and loyal,' 70 Charles "Chuck" Black, 70, of Hackettstown, N.J., sadly lost his battle to cancer at his home, surrounded by his family, on May 22, 2016. Chuck was born in Ridley Park, Pa., the son of Crawford A. Black and Marie Flannigan Black. He was a loving father and friend to all and is survived by his fiancée, Patty Steiger; daughter, Kimmie Black-Yurdin and her husband, Art; son, Chip Black and his wife, Nicole; sister, Katherine Black, and loving grandchildren, Delilah and Aaron. Chuck was a Yale man and a graduate of the Wharton School of Business. He worked his entire career in the insurance industry, ultimately owning C.A. Black Corporate Insurance Co. A big sports fan, specifically Yale football and the Green Bay Packers, Chuck was a longtime member of the Panther Valley Country Club. He enjoyed sitting by the pool and sharing drinks with his friends and was well known for his "business lunches." He also enjoyed movies, video games, reading, and most of all his family and friends. Chuck was a caring, loyal man who would do anything for those he knew and loved. He will be missed by everyone who knew him. He was one-of-a-kind with a charm all his own and with him they broke the mold. In keeping with Chuck's wishes, there will be no funeral services. Online condolences may be offered at smithmccrackenfuneralhome.com. In lieu of flowers, the family is requesting donations be sent to American Lung Association at lung.org in Charles (Chuck) Black's name.

The Star-Ledger: May 29, 2016

NAME: Black, Charles A.

DATE OF DEATH: May 22, 2016