

Ruth Lang Clark

HACKETTSTOWN — Ruth Lang Clark, 92, died Friday, March 11, 2005, in Hackettstown Community Hospital.

She was born on April 18, 1912 in Edinburgh, Scotland.

She was a homemaker and lived in Hackettstown for over 30 years.

Her husband, Alexander, died earlier.

Mrs. Clark was a member of the Beattystown Presbyterian Church. She was an active member of the Masonic Family Camp at Harriman State Park in New York, where, along with her beloved husband, she was devoted to the development of youth tennis, swimming and hiking.

She is survived by a son, Alexander Clark III, of Athens, Ga.; two daughters, Ruth AreJay Clark, of Long Valley, and Heather Clark, of Morrisville, Vt.; a daughter-in-law, Pat Clark; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

A son, William, died earlier.

A memorial service will be held at Cochran Funeral Home, Hackettstown.

The Warren Reporter: March 25, 2005

NAME: Ruth Lang Clark

DATE OF DEATH: March 11, 2005