

OBITUARY

Libby, Dicker, great person, beloved and devoted wife, mother, and grandmother, died November 14, 2016 in Hackettstown, NJ at 83. Born in Brooklyn, Libby lived in Wantagh and Manhattan, NY before retirement. In retirement she lived in Mt. Pocono and Stroudsburg, PA and then in Heath Village, Hackettstown, NJ for the past nine years. She adored and was the widow of Maurice Dicker and is survived by her children, Aimee and David Ross and Danielle and Joseph Lee, and grandchildren, Nicole and Noah Ross and Alexandra, Corinne and Julia Lee, of whom she was justly proud. Also survived by her beloved siblings, Jack Cohen and Maxine Sackman, both of Florida. She enriched all of our lives by her love, her smile and kindness, and her terrific sense of humor, and we will all miss her daily. She was a great quilter and we all sleep under her creations nightly. She and Maurice will live on in our hearts. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Heath Village Friendship Fund, <http://www.heathvillage.com/friendship-fund.php>

The New York Times: December 18, 2016

NAME: Dicker, Libby

DATE OF DEATH: November 14, 2016