

OBITUARY

MRS. NANCY B. DOW.

Worry Thought to Have Hastened End of Aged Woman.

Mrs. Nancy Batson Dow, widow of William Dow, died Monday from paralysis at her home in Main street, at the advance age of eighty-eight years. For a long time she had been confined to her home from the infirmities of old age.

Two weeks ago Wednesday her only son, Frank Dow, disappeared from home, and worry is thought to have hastened the end of his mother climaxed by a stroke of paralysis. He has for some time been afflicted with melancholy, due to a nervous affliction through overwork in the study of law when a young man. Efforts to locate him have as yet been without results.

Miss Laura Dow, a daughter, is a teacher in the public school, and the faculty sent to her resolutions of condolence and a floral offering.

The funeral services of Mrs. Dow were held yesterday afternoon from the Main street home, which she had occupied for some time. Dr. John O. Sparnon, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, officiated. Interment was in the family plot in Union Cemetery.

The Hackettstown Gazette : 14 June, 1918

NAME: Nancy B. Dow

DATE OF DEATH: ~~14 June, 1918~~