

OBITUARY

Margaret B. Foster, owned gas station

HACKETTSTOWN — Margaret B. Foster, 88, of Hackettstown, Washington Township, N.J., died Sunday, Dec. 18, in her home following a short illness.

She owned and operated Foster's Mobil Station on Route 46 in Hackettstown from 1965 until retiring in 1983.

Born Dec. 16, 1906, in Oxford, she was a daughter of the late Peter and Maria Savlik Bockman Sr. She lived in Hackettstown since 1943, moving from Oxford.

She was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church of the Assumption in Hackettstown.

She was a member of International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Her husband, William, died in 1965.

Surviving are a daughter, Denise DePuy of Hackettstown; a brother, Joseph of Toms River, N.J.; three sisters, Rose Smith of Lady Lake, Fla., and Cecilia Wolfe and Julia, both of Kearny, N.J.; a grandson and two great-grandsons.

Services and burial will be private. There will be no calling hours.

The family requests memorials in her memory to the charity of one's choice.

The Cochran Funeral Home, 905 High St., Hackettstown, is in charge of arrangements.

Express-Times: December 20, 1994

NAME: Margaret B. Foster (nee Bockman)

DATE OF DEATH: December 18, 1994