

OBITUARY

Michael Grogan, commonly called "Squire" the oldest Irish citizen of this town, died on Sunday morning, aged 84. He had been confined to his bed for over a year previous to his death. He reared a large family of children—ten boys and four girls—half of whom survive him. He was one of the first Irishmen to settle in our town and was long known to our community as a hard-working man, and devoted to his family. Peace to his ashes.
