

OBITUARY

Marjorie Haigh, active in ministry

Marjorie Haigh, 90, of Heath Village, Washington Township, N.J., died Friday, Oct. 17, in the village.

Born Aug. 7, 1907, in Grand Rapids, Mich., she was a daughter of the late David T. and Beatrice Marrin Davies. She lived in Heath Village since 1988 and before that, in Hackettstown since 1967. Prior to that, she lived in Verona, N.J.

She was a member of the Panther Valley Ecumenical Ministry in Allamuchy.

She was a member of the Woman's Club of Hackettstown and a charter member of the Hackettstown Historical Society.

Her husband, Winthrop Clayton, died in 1990.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Cochran Funeral Home, 905 High St., Hackettstown. Call 9 a.m. Wednesday to time of services in the funeral home. Burial will be in Rosedale Cemetery in Orange, N.J.

The family requests memorials to the Hackettstown Historical Society, 106 Church St., Hackettstown, or Panther Valley Ecumenical Ministry, Route 517, Allamuchy.

Marjorie Haigh

WASHINGTON TWP. — Marjorie Haigh, 90, of Heath Village, died Friday, Oct. 17, in the village.

Born Aug. 7, 1907, in Grand Rapids, Mich., she was a daughter of the late David and Beatrice Davies. She lived in Heath Village since 1988 and before that in Hackettstown since 1967. Prior to that, she lived in Verona.

She was a member of the Woman's Club of Hackettstown and a charter member of the Hackettstown Historical Society.

Her husband, Winthrop Clayton Haigh, died in 1990.

Services were held in Cochran Funeral Home, Hackettstown. Burial was in Rosedale Cemetery, Orange.

The family requests memorials to the Hackettstown Historical Society, 106 Church St., Hackettstown; or Panther Valley Ecumenical Ministry, Rt. 517, Allamuchy.

The Express-Times: October 21, 1997

The Star-Gazette: October 30, 1997

NAME: Marjorie (Davies) Haigh

DATE OF DEATH: October 17, 1997