OBITUARY

Alpheus

cars ago

On Friday morning last, shortly ther eight o'clock, George Haszen, one of our 1 st known and well esteemed citizens, dropped dead as he entered the old steam saw-mill, a Liberty street, the place of his active beiness for many years. The cause of his deat! was heart disease. His remains were speedil conveyed to his home on High street, the attendant physicians and coroner deeming any inquest unnecessary.

1829, and was 56 years old on Aug. 1 t. When but six years old, he, with his mother, became of this place, his mother's brother.

Clawson & Vanatta. In 1856 he entered into partnership with Alfred Clawson and then first was known the firm of Clawson & Haszen. This partnership continued until Alfred Clawson stepped out, and most of the building improvements about our Church, preached the funeral sermon. town. Two years ago, the firm stopped active business at the mill, although the portnership had never been dissolved until this death. Mr. Haszen had since been engaged in special work at his trade, and about two was hurt by a piece of timber throv a against of health at the time of his death.

Warren Republican: September 18, 1885

hun, while working with a circ dar saw. From this shock he seemed to have stirely recovered and was apparently enjoying the best

NAME: George Haszen

DATE OF DEATH: September 11, 1885

In politics, he was a steadfast Democrat, and many times vas elected to office. He was a member of our own Council seven times, between the years 1856 to 1866, and twice during that period was also Street Commissioner. In 1867, he was elected Freeholder, and held that position until 1874. In 1875 he was again elected Councilman, and was a member for eight out of the on years since passed, was Mr. Haszen was born in New Bresswick in President of the Council for the last six of his years of service and at the time of his death. During his many ears of service, he was recinmates of the family of Benjamin teeder, of oguized as a sound and conservative officer, and a common-ser se manager, with reference He learned his trade as a carpe iter with to our town and county's best interests. In 1853, he ma ried Rebecca J. Moore, of this town, by whom he was the father of six children, three of whom died at an early age. In 1858 this firm erected the larger cam mill His son William died in December, 1883, aged on Liberty street, and, in 1859, were the con- 25, and he leaves surviving him his widow tractors who built the Presbyteria church, and a son, John M., and a daughter, Lizzie, 865, when both adults.

The funeral too place at his late residence Clawson became the partner, the im name on Monday, at these o'clock p.m., and was remaining the same. In 1868-9, the firm, in largely attended, the remaining six Common connection with Stryker Bros., buil the Insti- Councilmen acting as pall-bearers. tute, and for a series of years were agaged in Alex. Proudfit, lat a paster of the Presbyterian