

OBITUARY

Barbara Anthony Iaione, 78, a 39-year resident of Mountainside, N.J., died suddenly on Tuesday, March 8, 2011, at her residence. Funeral services will begin at 11 a.m. Monday, March 14, 2010, at Gray Memorial Funeral Home, 12 Springfield Ave., Cranford, N.J., grayfuneralhomes.com, where visitation will be at 10 a.m. until service time on Monday. Interment will follow in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield, N.J. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., the daughter of Louis and Martha Spulnek Anthony, Barbara grew up in Hackettstown, N.J., where she graduated from Hackettstown High School in 1950 and Centenary College. She received a bachelor's degree in fashion design from the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N.Y., and continued her education at the Tobe Coburn School of Fashion in New York City. Mrs. Iaione was a fashion buyer for the former Hahne's Department stores, based in Newark. She and her mother started CJ Fashion, which they operated in Chatham, N.J. Barbara was an artist, an illustrator and a published poet. She will be greatly missed and will always be in our hearts for eternity. She was the beloved wife of the late William D. Iaione, a local builder and construction engineer, who died recently on Dec. 27, 2010. She was a devoted mother of two sons, Kevin A. Iaione and his wife, Robin, of Hackettstown, N.J., and Darren J. Iaione and his wife, Carol, of Bernardsville, N.J.; beloved grandmother of six, Kaylin, Jonathan, Justin, Rachel, Sarah, David and dear cousin of Kathleen Jacobsen and her husband, Edwin, of South Carolina. Memorial contributions may be made in her memory to the Salvation Army.

The Star-Ledger: March 11, 2011

NAME: Iaione, Barbara (nee Anthony)

DATE OF DEATH: March 8, 2011