

OBITUARY

MRS. LULU F. OSMUN

PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Mrs. Lulu Farrow Osmun passed away Tuesday evening at Dover General Hospital shortly after being removed there from her home, 172 Main street, in the Blue Ridge Post ambulance. Her death came unexpectedly after a short illness from blood poisoning and kidney complications. Her condition became serious Tuesday morning but was not considered alarming up to that time.

Mrs. Osmun came to reside in Hackettstown with her father a number of years ago and married George Osmun and through his death became his widow seven years ago. She was the daughter of the late Dr. Levi Farrow, who practiced his profession here some years ago.

She was fifty-four years of age, and was born in Middle Valley. Those surviving her are three nephews, Franklin C. of Brooklyn; Matthias, of Boston; Levi of High Bridge, and one niece, Miss Carol Farrow of Buffalo. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Robert J. Trevor, president of Centenary Collegiate Institute, will officiate.

The Hackettstown Gazette: January 10, 1930

NAME: Lulu (Farrow) Osmun

DATE OF DEATH: January 7, 1930