

OBITUARY

Lewis Talmadge Parrish

Lewis Talmadge Parrish, 75, of Goldsboro, N.C., formerly of Hackettstown, died Saturday, October 21, 2006, in New Hanover Regional Medical Center; Wilmington, N.C.

Born: March 18, 1931, in Brunswick County, N.C.

Personal: Mr. Parrish completed a distinguished 33-year career with Centenary College in Hackettstown, where he was professor-department chair of Natural Sciences and Mathematics.

He was also past president of the Board of Education for Warren County Vocation Technical School in Washington.

Survivors: three sons and their wives, Ret. USAF Maj. Lewis Michael and Karen Parrish of Melbourne, Fla., USAF MSgt Eric and Nancy Parrish of Fayetteville, N.C., USAF TSgt. George and Stacie Parrish of Goldsboro, N.C.; a daughter, Tama Parrish Byrnes and Steven of Simpsonville, S.C.; two sisters, Leta Carol Helton and her husband, Carrol, of Terrell, N.C., Rose Ellen Cheers and her husband, Jack, of Cocoa, Fla.; nine grandchildren; and one great-granddaughter.

He was predeceased by his wife, Iva Jean Parrish, and a son, Jeffrey T. Parrish.

Services: No local services will be announced. Arrangements by Brunswick Funeral Service & Crematory, Shallotte, N.C.

Memorials: In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorials to New Hanover Hospitality House of Wilmington, 1612 Medical Center Dr., Wilmington, NC 28401.

Lewis Talmadge Parrish

GOLDSBORO, N.C. — Lewis Talmadge Parrish of Goldsboro, N.C., formerly of Hackettstown, died Saturday, Oct. 21, 2006, in New Hanover Regional Medical Center, Wilmington, N.C. He was 74.

He was born March 18, 1931, in Brunswick County, N.C.

Mr. Parrish completed a distinguished 33-year career with Centenary College in Hackettstown, where he was professor-department chair of Natural Sciences and Mathematics. He was also past president of the Board of Education for Warren County Vocation Technical School in Washington.

Survivors include three sons and their wives, Ret. USAF Maj. Lewis Michael and Karen Parrish of Melbourne, Fla., USAF MSgt Eric and Nancy Parrish of Fayetteville, N.C., USAF TSgt. George and Stacie Parrish of Goldsboro, N.C.; a daughter, Tama Parrish Byrnes and Steven of Simpsonville, S.C.; two sisters, Leta Carol Helton and her husband, Carrol, of Terrell, N.C., Rose Ellen Cheers and her husband, Jack, of Cocoa, Fla.; nine grandchildren; and one great-granddaughter.

He was predeceased by his wife, Iva Jean Parrish, and a son, Jeffrey T. Parrish.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorials to New Hanover Hospitality House of Wilmington, 1612 Medical Center Dr., Wilmington, NC 28401.

The Express - Times: October 23, 2006

The Warren Reporter: November 10, 2006

NAME: Lewis Talmadge Parrish

DATE OF DEATH: October 21, 2006