

Carolyn Pulaski

Carolyn Pulaski, 67, of Allamuchy Township died Dec. 15, in her home.

She was a real estate broker for Panther Valley Realty in Allamuchy Township and Weichert Realtors in Chester. Years ago, she was a casting director at N.W. Ayer & Kenyon Eckhardt in New York City. She also was a certified interior design specialist.

Born June 5, 1934, in New York City, she was a daughter of the late Joseph and Madeline D'Esopo Pelletieri. She resided in Corning, N.Y., and Pennsylvania, moving to Panther Valley 27 years ago.

She was a member of Good Shepherd Catholic Church in Andover.

She was a 1955 graduate of the New York University School of Journalism.

She was an oblate member of Mount Savior Benedictine Monastery in Pine City, N.Y., and a member of the Villa Madonna Guild in Allamuchy Township. She was a member of the Panther Valley Golf and Country Club. She was a gourmet cook and enjoyed weaving.

Survivors include her husband, Alfred S., and a sister, Margaret, with whom she also resided.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at Good Shepherd Roman Catholic Church, Andover.

Interment was in Tranquility Cemetery in Tranquility.

Star Gazette
December 20, 2001
Pulaski, Carolyn
Date of Death
December 15, 2001