

OBITUARY

Rev. Dr. Frank T. Reed

Services were held for the Rev. Frank T. Reed, 78, of Roanoke, Va., who died April 26 in Roanoke Hospital after a long illness.

Dr. Reed served as pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church in Hackettstown from 1951 to 1959.

He had been a minister of the United Methodist Church since 1938, serving as pastor in churches in Lebanon, Clifton and Caldwell, as well as Hackettstown. He was also at one point a professor of English and philosophy at Centenary College.

A graduate of Beckley College, Wesleyan College and the Drew University Seminary, he was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree from West Virginia Wesleyan in 1957.

He is survived by his wife, Hazel; one daughter, Mrs. Richard Marrs of Simsbury, Conn.; four brothers; and two grandchildren.

The Rev. Malcolm McVeigh, also a former pastor at Trinity United Methodist Church in Hackettstown, officiated at the service.

Rev. Frank T. Reed, former church pastor in Hackettstown

Rev. Frank T. Reed, 78, formerly of Hackettstown, died April 26 in Roanoke, Va., Hospital following a long illness.

He served as pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church in Hackettstown from 1951 to 1959.

He had been a minister of the United Methodist Church since 1938, serving as pastor in churches in Lebanon, Clifton and Caldwell, in New Jersey, as well as Hackettstown.

At one point he was a professor of English and philosophy at Centenary College in Hackettstown.

A graduate of Beckley College, Wesleyan College and Drew University Seminary, he was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree from West Virginia Wesleyan in 1957.

Survivors include his wife, Hazel Reed; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Marrs of Simsbury, Conn.; four brothers and two grandchildren.

Services were held in Roanoke. Officiating was Rev. Dr. Malcolm McVeigh, who served as pastor of Trinity Church in Hackettstown from 1981 to 1983 and was led to enter the Christian ministry through the influence of Mr. Reed.

The Star-Gazette: May 23, 1991

The Easton Express: May 17, 1991

NAME: Rev. Frank T. Reed

DATE OF DEATH: April 26, 1991