

Bruce C. Stout Sr., owned coal supply in Hackettstown

Bruce Carr Stout Sr., 67, of Contoocook, N.H., died Sunday at Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in Hanover, N.H., after a long illness. He was a resident of Hackettstown for most of his life.

He was co-owner of Hackettstown Coal and Supply Co. for many years.

Born May 30, 1923, in New York, N.Y., he was a son of the late John Gilbert and Augusta Martin Stout.

He was a graduate of Hackettstown High School, class of 1940, and Blair Academy in Blairstown, N.J.

He served in the Army during World War II, and graduated from Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn.

He was a member of the St. James Episcopal Church in Hackettstown. He was also a past president of the Hackettstown Rotary Club, and a member of the Hackettstown Water Board.

Surviving are his wife of 42 years, the former Allice Tonkens; two daughters, Linda Saunders of Hopkinton, N.H., and Sandra Murray of Woodstock, Vt.; a son, Bruce C. Jr. of Annandale, N.J.; two brothers, Gilbert M. of North Scituate, Mass., and Richard S. of Mannasquan, N.J.; and four grandchildren.

A graveside service will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday at the Union Cemetery in Hackettstown.
