Jessie Toro

Jessie Toro, 62, of Hackettstown died March 5 at University Hospital, Newark, after a short illness.

Born in the Bronx, Mrs. Toro lived there most of her life, moving to Hackettstown in 1969.

She worked as a teletype operator for seven years for Harper and Brothers in New York City then worked for 20 years as a bookkeeper for Rockaway Sales in Hackettstown, retiring in 1993.

She was a former substitute teacher for the Our Lady of Pity Church in the Bronx and was a member of Saint Mary's Church of the Assumption, Hackettstown. She was also a former member of the Ladies Auxiliary of Joyce Kilmer Council Knights of Columbus, Hackettstown.

She is survived by her husband of 41 years, Robert, at home; twin sons, Richard of Stroudsburg and Robert of Middle Smithfield Township, Pa.; two daughters, Donnamarie McHugh and Denise Latham, both of Hackettstown; a brother Joseph Ascone of Yonkers, N.Y.; two sisters, Sophie Tulpano of Florida and Frances Picarello of the Bronx; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Saint Mary's Church of the Assumption, Hackettstown, with Father Bielen conducting. Burial was at Pequest Union Cemetery, Great Meadows.

Scala Memorial Home, Hackettstown, was in charge of the arrangements.
